

Construction Photography

ABOUT THIS CLASS

Construction companies often spend thousands of dollars on photographic images for use in promotional materials, project documentation, and social media posts. Utilizing in-house staff to quickly produce photographic content may save money, but the resulting images can lack the quality of those shot professionally. Participants will learn to create quality images that are a positive reflection of their company.

THIS CLASS WILL COVER

- Types of Cameras and Equipment
- Editing Software and Services
- Photographic Theory and Method
- Drones
- Shooting Considerations
